NORTHPOINT CABINETRY ASSEMBLED CABINETRY EARNS KCMA CERTIFICATION FOR QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE

Third-party testing ensures assembled cabinets meet rigorous industry standards.

(BOSSIER CITY, LOUISIANA – December 19, 2025) – NorthPoint Cabinetry, a leading manufacturer of high-quality cabinets from Hardware Resources, has announced their line of assembled cabinets have officially earned certification from the Kitchen Cabinet Manufacturers Association (KCMA). Certification requires cabinets to meet ANSI/KCMA A161.1 performance and construction standards recognized across the industry.

“KCMA certification is more than just a symbol—it’s an independent confirmation that our assembled cabinetry meets the highest standards of craftsmanship and reliability,” said Jami Harmon, Senior Director of Product Management for NorthPoint Cabinetry at Hardware Resources. “This achievement reinforces our commitment to offering dependable, builder-friendly cabinetry that delivers exceptional value to our customers.”

KCMA certification requires rigorous third-party testing that validates NorthPoint assembled cabinets for long-term durability, structural integrity, and reliable performance. As part of the certification process, cabinets are evaluated under demanding conditions for impact, load-bearing strength, moisture resistance, and overall construction quality. Certification provides peace of mind to customers who can confidently choose NorthPoint assembled cabinets that meet industry standards and specification requirements.
